Can I find this link genetically?

I took a FamilyTreeDNA Big Y DNA test and registered it with the Blake Surname Project (FamilyTreeDNA.com/groups/Blake/about. At the time of my test I reported my Earliest Known Ancestor (EKA) as Jasper Blake 1500-1547. My EKA and test results placed me in group E, R-M512/R-M198 East Anglia. At the time of this writing there were 13 participants in this group with 6 claiming Thomas Blake 1382-1439 as an EKA 1 (me) claiming Jasper Blake 1500-1547 as an EKA, 1 claiming Jasper Blake 1566-1614, 4 having no listed EKA and one claiming John Blake 1590-1650 as an EKA.

All 13 of us share haplogroup R-M173 (formerly R1) with a common male ancestor who lived approximately 22,000 years ago. Nine of us have a more recent haplogroup at R-M512/R-M198 (formerly R1a1a) with a common male ancestor who lived approximately 8400 years ago.

Two of us, the participant reporting John Blake as an ancestor, and me, share an even more recent haplogroup at R-M417 (formerly R1a1a1) with a common male ancestor who lived approximately 5400 years ago. Genetically, this is the closest I can get to verifying the above family trees.

FamilyTreeDNA.com shows me matching with ten other Y-DNA Test takers. Six match at R-M198, 2 at R-M512, and 2 at R-M173. Of the ten, five report their Earliest Known Ancestor (EKA) as Thomas Blake, 1382-1439, of Swaffham. One reports an EKA as Jasper Blake 1566-1614. Four show no EKA. Of those reporting Thomas Blake 1382-1439 as an EKA, one has a full pedigree back to Thomas, one has a pedigree back to Jasper Blake 1614-1674, one has no pedigree but reports an EKA as Jasper Blake 1566-1614. The remaining three have no EKA or pedigrees. I sent emails to those with pedigrees asking for any source information they have.

I received one reply from Linda (Blake) Hurtubise, a Blake researcher in British Columbia. She was the email POC for Dale George Blake who had the full pedigree back to Thomas Blake Sr. She told me that the majority of her information came from Carlton Blake's book. She also provide me information from an ancestry.com message boards conversation between Barrie Blake and Jean C. Wighton on 6 Sept 2013 (ancestry.com/boards/surnames.Blake/2155.2.1.1.3.1.1.1.2.2.1). In this conversation Barrie Blake provides this family tree:

	Thomas Blake circa 1382 in Swaffham Market
	Thomas Blake ca 1405
Edmund Blake	Simon Blake	Peter Blake
		Peter Blake m Elizabeth Spelman

Barrie Blake is referenced in two different newsletters edited by Elizabeth Kipp a co-administrator for the Blake Surname Project. One newsletter is associated with the Blake Surname Project and the other is Anglo-Celtic Roots for the British Isles Family History Society of Greater Ottawa (bifhsgo.ca). The Ancestry message boards also reference his work but at the time of the above messaging with JC Wighton, he was explaining to others why he had removed all of his work from the internet due to people copying his research, removing his copyright information, and claiming the research as theirs.

Based on all of the above discussion I believe that we can genealogically trace our family tree back to Thomas Blake of Swaffham born ca 1382 died ca 1439. This is our family tree confirmed by analyzing wills, genealogical websites and other sources.

				Thomas Blake of Swaffham 1382-1439 m unk

Verified Blake Family Tree

We are not closely genetically related to any of the other participants in the Blake Surname Project. The participant groups have the indicated haplogroups:

- Group A1 I2a
- Group B1 I1a
- Group C1 I2a1b1
- Groups D1-D7 R1b
- Group E (ours) R1a1a
- Group F T
- Group G E
- Group H G
- Group I R1b

Haplogroups R1a and R1b share a common male ancestor who lived approximately 28,000 years ago. Haplogroups I and R share a common male ancestor who lived approximately 47,000 years ago.

There are some researchers that show Thomas Blake's (1382-1439) father and mother as William Blake 1360-1461 and Elizabeth Power 1365-1425 both of Calne, Wiltshire. There are researchers who have traced their ancestors back in Wiltshire to Robert de Blakeland (1242-1286) of Calne, Wiltshire. In the Blake Surname Data, group B-1 has a participant who claims a Robert de Blakeland as an Earliest Known Ancestor. If this is correct, then the Calne Blakes are of the I Haplogroup not R and therefore William Blake can not be the father of Thomas Blake.

Elizabeth Spelman/Spilman/Spylman

A marriage between the Blake and Spelman/Spilman families was bound to happen at some point in time. Henry Spelman's name comes up twice in Blake land dealings. He is named twice as a partner in the purchase of the Manor Aspals mentioned above while discussing Simon Blake's will. He is named in a deed transferring the Manor Tonwells to Peter Blake in 1466. Henry Spelman had a sister named Elizabeth. Henry Spelman is also the father of Sir John Spilman, KNT, named in the Visitations of Norfolk, by his second wife, Ela of Narborough. Sir Henry's first wife gave birth to Thomas Spilman, KNT and Elizabeth. Ela also gave birth to Henry, Katherine, Anna, and Elizabeth who married into the Goldingham family.

It is highly likely that Peter Blake Jr married Henry's first Elizabeth daughter (as mentioned by Barrie Blake above) even though the Blake pedigree does not name her. If she was the _____ Spilman, sister of Sir John Spilman and the mother of Jasper Blake 1500-1547, I believe she was dead or extremely sick and not expected to survive when Peter Sr had his will drawn up because it appears that Peter Sr and Elizabeth were already caring for Jasper and why would Peter Sr go to such great lengths to spell out Jasper's wardship if Jasper's mother was still alive. If she was alive or expected to live she should have been listed at least as one of the individuals responsible for Jasper's "rule and keeping" or "rule and governance".

Could she have survived and then later married Peter Jr's younger brother, Sir John and John adopted Jasper? Possibly, It could explain why John is listed as Jasper's father and not Peter Jr when Jasper Blake (1592-1673) registered his arms and pedigree in 1612.

An aside, I think the mentioning of Sir John Spilman in the Blake pedigree was a bit of medieval name dropping. Sir John Blake became a well known barrister and by 1531 was a Justice of the King's Bench until his death in 1546.

A Deadend at Thomas

We now have a deadend at Thomas Blake 1382-1439. We do not know much about him or his son Thomas. His son John was mentioned in the historical description of Aspal's Manor as being one of the attorneys for the transfer of the manor from one party to another around 1436.

In the 1505 will of Thomas Blake, Esquire, Thomas places a name stipulation on his son Ralph by requiring all of his male heirs to use the name Blake. He also places the same stipulation on the Brampton male heirs should they inherit his properties in place of Ralph. This makes me wonder if Thomas Blake might have assumed the name of Blake as the result of some form of inheritance and that Blake might have been in use interchangeably with the original family name.

Along with the above family tree information, Barrie Blake also adds that the Blakes were a prominent family in the history of Norfolk and that they were presumably very close to the Royal Family, most likely Henry VI, reigned from 1422-1461 and 1471-1483. Edmund held the following titles:

Clerk of the Signet from 1449 to 1452

Clerk for the King's Secrets in July 1450

Steward in the Honour of Richmond in Norfolk and Suffolk for Life

Clerk of the King's Works from December 1451 to 1456

(i.e. responsible for the building and maintenance of all of the King's properties

Receiver-General of the Lordship of Richmond

Simon held the following titles or positions:

King's Serjeant (Serjeant was an order of barristers)
Keeper of the Seal in the Court of the Mashalsea
Bailiff of Swaffham from June, 1450

Besides being in Royal Favor the family was also financially successful. By the mid to late 1400s the family owns manors and lands to support sheep and cattle and receiving good incomes. Simon is able to give two manor's to the Church of Swaffham for the creation and staffing of a Chantry as well as give sums of money for other religious purposes. Edmund's son Thomas is extremely generous in his will giving around £130 in money to people and churches (this would be equal to £86,500 in 2017). He also gives away some cattle and corn, 156 Ewes, 13 Wethers (castrated Rams) and 83 hogs. Peter gives Manor Tonwells to Jasper, Land in Southery to Sir John, and some money to Mary.

I disagree with the notion that the Blakes of Wimbotsham lost their fortune by 1623. I think Jasper (1592-1673) sold the manor Tonwells and used the money to move to Kings Lynn and go into the maritime business. Then around 1643, Jasper Blake (1614-1674) expanded the business by coming to Hampton and marries into a family that has good landholdings (receives 100 acres from the Dalton family). I do this based on the fact that Jasper Blake, the Emigrant, held a number of land holdings in and around Hampton at the time of his death. He also labeled himself as a sailor or fisherman. His descendants in New Hampshire and Maine were boat builders and fishermen.

2. The Protestation Returns for Somerset 1641-2 and the Somerset Lay Subsidy 1642

These two sets of records in the mid 1600s are a valuable addition to any genealogical workup for a family. Although only heads of families are noted usually the records can be scant in the Parish Registers. One of the aims of many descendants of the Somerset Blake family is to link back to the Calne Blake family and this cluster of records in this area of Somerset prove to be very interesting in this quest.

3. Publishing the Blake Family of Andover

After a great deal of thought and perhaps because I have spent the last nearly two years revising a book that was written in 1912 on one of my other families (Siderfin family of West Somerset), I have decided to move ahead once I complete this particular revision to a couple of new books. There hasn't actually been a book written about the Blake Family of Andover although there are books that refer to this family through the years. My own line was at Upper Clatford where my grandfather Blake was born (my father, his son, was born at Eastleigh where my grandfather worked for the railway as a blacksmith).

My one-name Studies include both Blake and Pincombe (my parent's surnames) and I have decided to publish the Blake Family of Andover as a genealogical survey of the Blake Family at Andover from which I descend. I have already amassed a lot of material and I will be acquiring a number of other pieces to permit me to put together this family which is found in the Andover, Hampshire, England area from the early 1300s on to the present. Principally they were located in the Knights Enham area in the 1300s to the 1500s when, likely because William Blake (d 1582) had such a large family, they started to move out of the Knights Enham area (William himself lived at Eastontown close to Andover) into the areas around them including Andover itself where the Richard Blake (one of William's sons, the youngest actually) family lived. Richard also had a large family and the story continues. My intent is to gradually write the book in a generational style as I found that doing that with the book I am currently working on has done very well. The original book that I am revising was published in 1912 and was simply capturing a lot of information but no real structure to the text itself with a Pedigree Chart at the back of the book (48 pages). I am already at 250 pages with the revision and that will likely be about right for the final page count. I am footnoting at the moment and will begin the final proofreading early to mid October. I intend to publish it with a Creative Commons License so that it can remain free to anyone (it will be in electronic form as an *.pdf) but choosing a Creative Commons License will permit revision earlier if anyone so desires instead of following the rule of copyright. With so much material available in the public domain no on really owns (except of course Crown Copyright) the story and the more material which is collated and put together the more we learn about our past.

I will likely serialize the book and publish it in this newsletter and on my blog as well. I will actually begin with the Pincombe book (my mother's family) but will be collecting information and transcribing documents which I collected at Kew as I move along with that book. I have been learning Latin on duolingo and amazingly that is going very well. A document for the current book was in Latin and I transcribed it quite readily as well as converting it to English.

5. Andover, Hampshire, England, Parish Registers - Baptisms

Andover, Hampshire, England has often been said to be the “home of the Blakes” when I have been writing to people in Hampshire through the years. I would say that Calne, Wiltshire perhaps has a stronger hold on that particular title although there are a number of other areas in England where the Blake family has been for centuries. When I decided to transcribe the Parish Registers of Andover I was surprised to find that yes there are a number of Blake entries but there are far more Blake entries in Parish Registers in other parts of England as mentioned. In this issue, I will publish the baptisms for Blake in the Parish Registers. These records are taken from fiche which have scans of the original parish registers. The registers for baptisms begin in 1588 and have provided me with a lot of details on the Blake family in Andover in the late 1500s and into the 1600s/1700s. Eventually I hope to complete my project of transcribing these Parish Registers for St Marys Andover beyond the early to mid 1700s.

Baptismal Registers commenced in 1588 and I will start publishing these transcriptions for Andover.

6. Andover, Hampshire, England Parish Registers - marriages

I will publish the marriages for Blake in the Parish Registers of St Marys Andover. These records are taken from fiche which have scans of the original parish registers. The registers for marriages begin in 1587 and have provided me with a lot of details on the Blake family in Andover in the late 1500s and into the 1600s/1700s. Eventually I hope to complete my project of transcribing these Parish Registers for St Marys Andover beyond the early to mid 1700s.

Marriage Registers commenced in 1587
