1. Blake Family of Andover, Hampshire, England

I was somewhat amazed today as I looked and realized that I am doing Volume 15 Issue 2 of the Blake Newsletter. Fifteen years of newsletter and all because there just seemed to be a need for some discussion of the founding lines of the Blake families in the British Isles. Blake has traveled the world and can be found in every Commonwealth country and also quite a few in the United States. The founding lines of Blake are very different from one set to another and conclusively the only thoughts I have are as follows: the group I-M253 may be descendant of the Le Blak family of Rouen, Normandy (and I propose that the Blake family of Calne are the descendant of this early to the British Isles family and more details in my blog on that) and I have discussed this proposal in the book. That section will be published as I feel that what I have done is interesting and does merit some attention in an academic way. The group I-P37 to which my own line belongs is ancient to the British Isles and I firmly believe is the Blake family found at Andover, Hampshire back into the 1300s (I also believe they acquired the surname by marriage with a Blake (possibly the Le Blak family given the relationship that is mentioned in the wills of the 1500s by members of the Blake family at Speen, Berkshire and the Blake family of Andover). Continuing in that train of thought the I-M223 family appears to be descendant of a

Blake line coming from the British Isles to the American Colonies and Theophilus Blake appears to be the furthestest back known ancestor looking at the early to mid 1700s for this line. There are a number of Irish Blake lines in the study with M-269 (further testing does appear to sharpen this in the BigY-700 test) being descendant of the Galway Blake line (ancestor Richard Cadell who took the surname Blake). There is also a M-269 line that traces back into the Wiltshire/Hampshire area but is not descendant of the Le Blak line mentioned above. From East Anglia M-512/M-198 appears to be descendant of Jasper Blake and this is the Blake family originating in the American colonies in the 1640s in New Hampshire. I have done quite a bit of work on the Cornwall Blake family and they appear to have arrived from Bretagne, France in the early 1500s (information on that can be found in my blog). I did receive a number of emails disagreeing with me but the Parish Registers do tend to give that impression plus they do not match any of the above Blake groups.

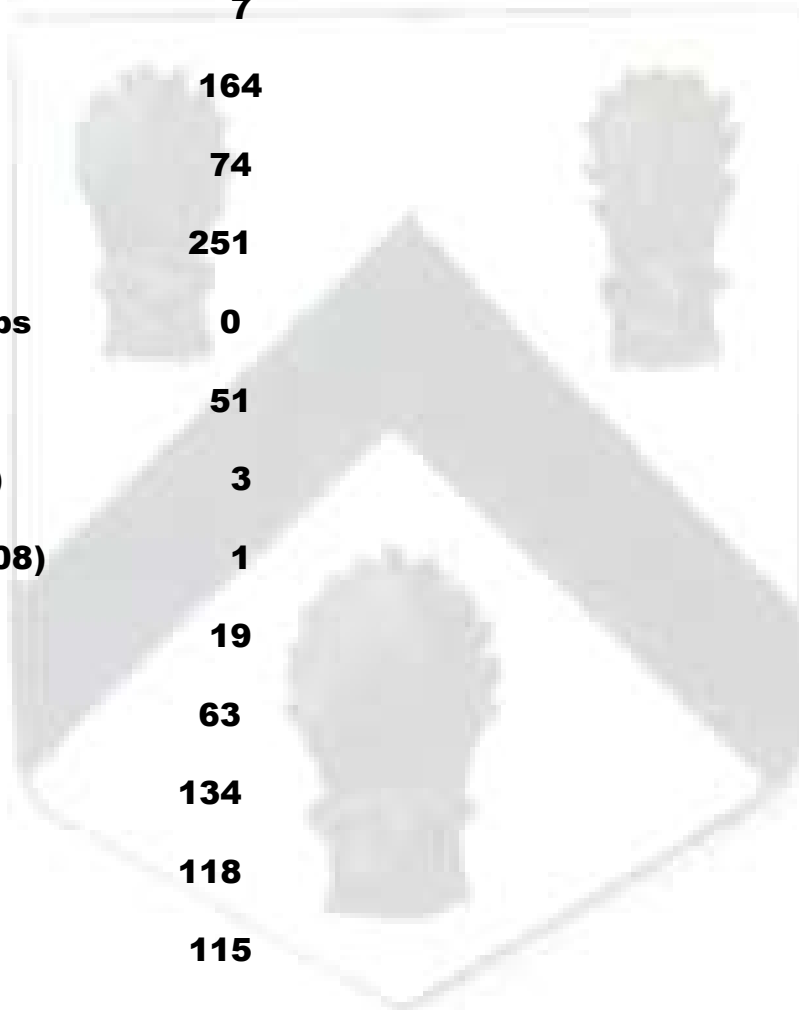

My time spent this past year (and it is nearly a year) on pulling together my matches and updating them as needed. The chart which I produced is autosomal but I will use it to support my Blake family of Andover. Although all of the Blake lines are extremely interesting I have left it to the individuals within their groups to work together (and many do) to achieve what they are able in their lines and do publish it somewhere for future discussion. As we move to full genomic DNA results the process may well become much easier as we grow to understand how DNA moves through the generations and what sorts of changes may have occurred to assist in looking at the various Blake lines.

There is one new member in the group and he will be in I-M170. A few of the groups have independent researchers who manage them and likely you will have heard from them if you are matching them. I do not generally write to anyone as I am likely unable to aid you unless you are in one of their groups or in the group from which my Blake line descends. To me this is a collection period during which vast amounts of data are going to get organized and the methodology continues to develop as to just how we will organize this data. FT DNA does a great job with their current (and it is fairly new) y-DNA tree assigning haplogroups way into the past and up to the present to match the results that have been obtained by testing the samples. I can add very little to that other than try and organize the kits of people in this project into lines that suit the results of their data. This may not happen quickly as time needs to pass with each result whilst I look at the available data. I always welcome any comments from people on the assigning to a particular group. R-M269 is a particularly large group within the study and it has been broken down by an earlier researcher. I have somewhat retained the structure that Barrie Blake had because he often communicated with individuals within the group. But I do welcome any new information that might help to better refine some of these groups.

3. Andover, Hampshire, England, Parish Registers - Baptisms

Andover, Hampshire, England has often been said to be the “home of the Blakes” when I have been writing to people in Hampshire through the years. I would say that Calne, Wiltshire perhaps has a stronger hold on that particular title (the Blake family at Andover acquired the surname Blake sometime in the late 1200s/early 1300s and I am still determining that) although there are a number of other areas in England where the Blake family has also been for centuries. When I decided to transcribe the Parish Registers of Andover I was surprised to find that yes there are a number of Blake entries but there are far more Blake entries in Parish Registers in other parts of England as mentioned. In this issue, I will publish the baptisms for Blake and others in the Parish Registers. These records are taken from fiche which have scans of the original parish registers. The registers for baptisms begin in 1588 and have provided me with a lot of details on the Blake family in Andover in the late 1500s and into the 1600s/1700s. Eventually I may complete my project of transcribing these Parish Registers for St Marys Andover beyond the early to mid 1700s (but the online database at Find My Past is excellent as it provides the scans which you can enlarge!).

Baptismal Registers commenced in 1588 and I will publish these transcriptions for Andover.

4. Andover, Hampshire, England Parish Registers burials

I will publish the burials for Blake and others in the Parish Registers of St Marys Andover. These records are taken from fiche which have scans of the original parish registers. Eventually perhaps I will complete my project of transcribing these Parish Registers for St Marys Andover beyond the early to mid 1700s.

Burial Registers commenced in 1586 (Old Style) (1586/87 New Style)
