First Generation

1. Hendrick Hendricksen Kip [1], son of Hendrick [11820], was born circa 1600 in Niewenhuys, Netherlands, died on Sep 14, 1685 in New York, NY, aged about 85, and was buried on Sep 16, 1685 in New York, NY.

General Notes: Henrick Henrixsz. In 1624 in Amsterdam, Netherlands, his trade was tailor. His name was Hendrick Hendriksen or Hendrixse or Henrixsz. At this time they did not use the surname Kip.

Records in the Netherlands refer to the betrothal of Heyndrick Heyndrixse of Niewenhuys, age 24, to Tryntje Lubberts from Swoll, age 25, orphan, betrothed in Amsterdam on 20 April 1624. Hendrick and Tryntje had seven children, six baptized in the Netherlands between 1625 and 1636 and one baptized in New Amsterdam in 1643. It is related that the arms of the family were painted on the stained-glass windows of the first church erected in New Amsterdam. They were also carved in stone over the door of the Kip's Bay House, which is said to have been built in 1655 by his son Jacob.

On 20 April 1624 Hendrick Hendricksz [KIP] and Tryntje Lubberts announced their marriage intentions in Amsterdam. He gives as his place of origin Niewenhuys, which is probably Nyhuizum, a village just a few miles east of Workum in Friesland, close to the Zuiderzee. His bride came from Zwolle, a city in Overijssel, also situated close to the Zuiderzee (now IJsselmeer).

This is what the record says:

Searching marriages from FamilySearch.org indicate that Henrick Henrixsz(en) married Trijntje Lubberts on May 5, 1624 at Amsterdam, Noord-Holland, Netherlands. [Indexing Project No. M01225-2. Source Film No. 113358.] [Indexing Project No. M90102-1. Source Film No. 113364]

According to Frederic E Kipp, in his book on page 19 there is a reference to the Records of Old West India Company, No. 14, LXXV fol. 90 vo, as follows.

The Minutes of the Directors of Amsterdam, Holland, record that "Henrick Hendricksen Snijder requests for account of Henrick Jansen Snijder according to the bill of exchange, dated Aug. 15, 1635 and signed by Wouter van Twiller and Martin Gerritsen, the amount of 326 guilders, 19 stivers, 8 pennies." (I have not seen this reference.) His request was referred to the Commissioners for New Netherland. Thus he was living in Amsterdam before 1636.

The last date they've been found in Amsterdam so far is the baptism of daughter Tryntje on June 8, 1636.

In the New Netherland Register of the Provincial Secretary 1638-1642, there is a Hendrick Hendricksz mentioned for the date June 27, 1639.

In the New Netherland Council Minutes 1638-1749, Hendrick Kip is mentioned on the date February 19, 1643.

Volume 2: Register of the Provincial Secretary, 1642-1647. Translated by Arnold J. F. van Laer (1974), pp. 115 and 116 [original document # 51c].

51c: April 16, 1643

"Hendrick Hendricksen Kyp" tailor witnessed a settlement by Geertruyt Jacobs widow of Gerrit van Vorst, on her children of their portion of their father's estate.

New York Historical Manuscripts: Dutch; Vol. II, Register of the Provincial Secretary 1642 to 1647; Translated by Arnold J. F. van Laer (1974), pp. 115 and 116 [original document # 51c].

Then on April 19, 1643 "Mr. Hendrick Hendricksz." bp. daughter Femmetje at the New Amsterdam Reform Dutch Church. The lone witness was Jsaac Hendrickszen '96 possibly his son, who would have been 16.

On April 28, 1643, "Hendrick Hendricksz Kip" was granted a lot in New Amsterdam located east of the fort -- New York Historical Manuscripts: Dutch; Volumes GG, HH, & II, Land Papers, Translated and Edited by Charles Gehring (1980); p. 17 [original document #GG 57].

On Oct 24, 1643, he signed (as Hendrick Hendricksen Kyp) a resolution adopted by the commonality of the Mannhattans '96 Documents Relative to the Colonial History of the State of New-York ... ed. by E. B. O'Callaghan, vol 1, pp. 191-192.

On the Manatus map of 1639 there are two plantations shown as belonging to a tailor (snyder). One is #25 shown belonging to Hendric de Snyder and the other is #45 shown simply as Plan. van snyder. #25 is at the southern end in or near New Amsterdam; #45 is way up north in what became Harlem.

I. N. Phelps Stokes in his Iconography of Manhattan Island ... vol 2, pp. 197-198 traces land records that appear to show that #25 belonged to Hendrick Janszen, a tailor who was known to be in New Amsterdam as early as 1638.

As to #45, Stokes was not able to tell to whom it belonged (vol. 2, p. 205).

Frederic E. Kip in his History of the Kip Family in America (1928) says that the "van Snyder" of #45 "undoubtedly refers to Hendrick Kip" (p. 23). Later on that same page he says "Possibly Hendrick Kip's earliest residence in Manhattan was on this plantation in New Harlem."

However, I [Howard Swain] am skeptical because that would mean he was in New Netherland for four years without leaving any records especially since he seems to have been a man of substance: He was a Great Burgher and was chosen to be one of the Nine Men, for example. After 1643 there are many records left by him.

So, it seems we can say that the family arrived possibly by June 27, 1639 and definitely before February 9, 1643.

In 1647 he was chosen as one of the first Board of "Nine Men" to act as Governing Tribunal for New Amsterdam. Apparently he was satirically called "Hendrick Kip of the haughty lip" because he was strong and fearless. He also held office again in 1649 and 1650. He was appointed a Grand Schepen on Feb. 2, 1656, and on April 11, 1657 he was admitted to the Rights of a Great Burgher. Thus he took an important part in the government of New Amsterdam. After New Amsterdam was surrendered, he took the Oath of Allegiance to the English in October 1664.

His will (found in the Kip Family papers, NYPL - image available online ) apparently was never officially recorded. It was drawn by notary Willem Bogardus. Since both will and accounting cite the notary, it seems likely that Bogardus, who was city treasurer 1680-85 and later postmaster of New York province, entrusted the papers to Hendrick's son Jacob, especially since Jacob, who served five terms as city schepen, aided in administering the estate. His 7800 guilder estate was a substantial one for that time period. Will dated Feb. 2, 1671; Codicil dated Aug. 4, 1680; Estate accounting March 8, 1686.

Many books (from 1848 to 1928) give him an ancestry with the surname De Kype. None of these books provide a source for this information and I have not found any evidence to indicate it is true. It would appear his Dutch surname was Hendricksen or Henrixsz and that sometime between when he arrived in New Amsterdam between 1637 and March 1643 he assumed the surname Kip.

This could be described as a "dit" name, since there were several others in New Amsterdam with the surname Hendricksen and also another tailor Hendrick Jansen Snyder, sometimes referred to as Hendrick the tailor.

He may also have been given the surname Kype, Kyp or Kip by his friends. Kip means "chicken" in German, but Hendrick was anything but that as he stood up to authority. The motto on the Kip crest that appears in many books "Vestigia nulla retrorsum" means Footsteps no backward or Never go back.

[A group of Dutch settlers were sailing down the East River in a small boat] "While the voyagers were looking around them, on what they conceived to be a serene and sunny lake, they beheld at a distance a crew of painted savages busily employed in fishing, who seemed more like the genii of this romantic region -- their slender canoe lightly balanced like a feather on the undulating surface of the bay. At sight of these, the hearts of the heroes on Comminipaw were not a little troubled. But as good fortune would have it, at the bow of the commodore's boat was stationed a very valiant man named Hendrick Kip (which, being interpreted, means chicken; a name given him on token of his courage). No sooner did he behold those varlet heathens thab he trembled with excessive valor, and, although a good half mile distant, he siezed a musquatoon that lay at hand, and turning away his head, fired it most intrepidly in the face of the blessed son. The blundering weapon recoiled and gave the valiant Kip an ignominious kick that laid him prostrate with uplifted heels in the bottom of the boat. But such was the effect of this tremendous fire that the wild men of the woods, struck with consternation, siezed hastily upon their paddles, and shot away into one of the deep inlets of the Long Island shore. This signal victory gave new spirits to the hardy voyagers, and in honor of the achievement they gave the name of the valiant Kip to the surrounding bay, and it has continued to be called "Kip's Bay" from that time to the present.

Hendrick married Tryntje Lubberts [2] [MRIN: 1], daughter of Jan Lubbertsz [11665] and Femmetje Jans [13413], on May 5, 1624 in Amsterdam, Noord-Holland, Netherlands. Tryntje was born circa 1599 in Zwolle, Zwoffen, Overijssel, Netherlands, was christened on Oct 28, 1607 in Amsterdam, Noord-Holland, Netherlands, and died after 1665 in New York, NY.

Children from this marriage were:

New Amsterdam. As early as 1650 he was acting clerk in Director Stuyvesant's Council. In 1650, he was a Deputy Secretary. On Jan. 27, 1653, he was appointed the First Secretary of the Court of Burgomasters and Schepens in New Amsterdam. January 12, 1654, Burgomasters allowed Jacob a salary of 200 Guilders a year as Receiver of the City revenue.

Jacob Kip resigned the office of Secretary, June 12, 1657, and engaged in brewing, combining with this business that of a general trader or storekeeper. November 29, 1655, he was appointed Vendue Master to Court of Orphen Masters and he was a member of the Board of Schepens in 1659, 1662, 1665, and President of the Board in 1674. After the English conquest of New Netherland in 1664, the Burgomasters and Schepens named their own successors, and Jacob was chosen Schepen in 1665. Jacob was an Officer of the City Militia, having been commissioned Lieutenant by Governor Lovelace on May 1, 1668.

Jacob was the ancestor of the Kip's Bay, New York and Worchester County, N.Y., Kip Families. The original patent was for the land was granted by Francis Lovelace, Governor, &c., to Jacob Kipp on April 15, 1671. Jacob built a house at Kip's Bay in 1655 (current spot 2nd Ave and 38th Street NYC). This house was erected in 1655; the bricks of which were imported from Holland. It was a large double house, with three windows in a row on one side of the door and two on the other, with one large wing. House was torn down in 1851 to make way for progress.

my estate of houses and lands shall, after my decease, remain in the hands of my wife Catharine Lierstede, alias Kip, during her widowhood, and she shall bring up such children as I shall leave behind me until they are of age. After her decease all the estate to be divided among the children, but my eldest son shall have £25 over and above the rest, in lieu of any pretence of being heir. And he shall have the refusal of my house and brewhouse I now live in, at the price it shall be valued at by indifferent men. If my wife should marry again, she is to give true inventory of all the estate and she is to have one half of the movables, and the children the other half. General Notes: Abstract of Will

In the name of God, Amen. I, Isaac Kip, of Albany, merchant, "being in perfect mind and Memory, and at present in Sound Health. Thanks be to God for the same." As to such estate as it has pleased God to bless me, and what hereafter may be due to me here in Albany and elsewhere, I make Mr. Simon Veder and Mr. Joaigim (Jochem) Staats, son of Isaac Staats, executors. After all my debts and funeral charges are paid, then first and foremost I do give unto my nephew, Abraham Veder, ye son of Simon Veder, the Bolting house and the ground and stable, and the two wood sleighs, and all the tackling belonging thereto, and my desk. I leave to Geesie Staats, daughter of Simon Veder, £50; To my nephew, Abraham Veder, all my clothing. I also leave to Geesie Staats my negro girl named Crise, in the room of her mother Bathin. All the rest of my real and personal estate is to be sold and divided among my four sisters and the children of those who are deceased. My negro Jack shall choose a master to his liking.

Dated February 14, 1765. Witnesses, George Fielding, silversmith, Hendrick M. Roseboom, merchant, Abraham Roseboom, shop keeper. Proved October 29, 1771. [Lib. 28, p. 119]

Abstract of Will

In the name of God, Amen. Be it known unto all by these presents that this 25th day of May, 1765, I, the underwritten Roelof Kip, of Rhinebeck Precinct, Dutchess County, Yeoman, being advanced in years but yet retaining my perfect knowledge and senses. As for my temporal estate of "lands, buildings, Negroes, debts, horses, cattle, gold, and silver coined or not coined," etc. I order as follows, viz.: that all my debts be paid at the right time; that my dear and loving wife Sarah, so long as she remains my widow, remain in possession of my whole estate, real and personal. To my oldest son, Jacob, 20 shillings for his birthright and he shall have no further claim on that account. To my son, John Baptist, freely and absolutely, all my real estate whatsoever, and that he or his heirs pay to the remainder of my children £250, as follows: £125 one year after my or my wife's decease which last shall happen, and £125 two years after the same, which sums to be divided among my children and children's children as hereafter ordered. All my personal estate to my seven children, viz.: Jacob, John Baptist, Isaac, Ignas, Abraham, and my two deceased daughters, Grietje, late wife of Philip Van Ess, and Sarah, late wife of Baltus Van Cleek, equally divided; the seventh part thereof belonging to my daughter Grietje, deceased, to go to her son Gerrit, and her daughter Catatyntje; the seventh part belonging to my daughter Sarah, deceased, to go to her six children, viz.: Peter, Frans, Sarah, Chatarina, Grietje and Elizabeth. My executors are my five sons, viz.: Jacob, John Baptist, Isaac, Ignas and Abram. Whatsoever children are indebted to me shall after my wife's decease be accounted as a share or part of their heirship of my personal estate. Witnesses, Jan Pir, George Trimper, Christian Schultz (of Rhinebeck, schoolmaster). Proved, Dutchess County, March 9, 1785. Confirmed, New York, October 25, 1785. [Lib. 38, p. 194]

Abstract of Will

In the name of God, Amen. I, Abraham Kip, of Rhinebeck Precinct, in Dutchess County, yeoman, being weak in body. I leave to my son Jacob my Great Bible and my gun. All the rest of my estate, real and personal, I leave to my son Jacob Kip, and my daughter Anilia Kip, to be divided when my son Jacob is of age. If they die, then the estate to go to my brothers and sisters [not named]. My executors are to rent out my house and farm and lands, "and also the Ferry across Hudsons River," to a good husbandman that will keep the same in good order, "and also that always a good Ferry boat and proper attendance be kept agreeable to the Patent granted for said ferry." All household stuff, horses, cattle, etc., are to be sold at public vendue and the money put at interest, "to sure persons, or for building a storehouse." "And as my servant and negro slaves have behaved faithful and obedient, it is my will that my servant, during the time limited by his indenture, and my negroes, Peggy and Robin, shall be hired to some honest persons, as they shall like best, and if possible that 'Peggy and Robin' may be both at one house, and my old wench 'Bett' shall have liberty to choose any good family that will take and keep her for victuals and clothes." My wench "Diana" I would have to live in the family where my children live. "Lastly I beg the favor of my dear mother in law and my brother in law, Johannes Pruyn, to take my children into their house and under their special care, and not to let them want for victuals and clothes, and they are to be paid what is customary." I make my loving brothers in law, Johannes Pruyn and Gerritt Van Wagenan, and my cousin Jacob Johan Kip, executors.

Dated November 13, 1755. Witnesses, Jury Haas, William Scott, Christian Schults. Proved before Laurence Van Kleek, Judge of Common Pleas and Peter Ten Broeck and William Humphry, Justices, February 16, 1756. [Lib. 19, p. 385]

General Notes: Abstract of Will

In the name of God, Amen. It being the Duty of all Persons living, to consider their mortall and frail estate upon Earth, the consideration whereof moves me at this time, being sick and weak, to settle my earthly estate so that no other thoughts but heavenly and faithfull may take up my Soul when I am preparing for my Journey to my Blessed Lord. I, Jacobus Kip, of New York, Esq., desire my executors to pay all debts and I give them full power to sell. I leave to my son John £5 in full of all demands as eldest son and heir at law. I leave to my wife Catalina, all the rest of my estate during her life, if she so long remains my widow, and she is to bring up my under aged children. When my children are of age or married, my wife is to give them such an outset as she sees cause. If she marries, she is to have one third of my personal estate, and she is to deliver an inventory of all the estate at or before, the day of her marriage. All the rest of my estate to my children, John, Jacobus, Catharine, William, Henry, Cornelia, Balthazar, and Benjamin. I make my wife and my son John executors and my loving brother, John Kip, Abraham Van Vleecq, and Balthazar De Hart, overseers. Dated November 3, 1726. ## Revolutionary War Heroine

(1) From "A History of Belleville by Federal Writers Project"

"One day the wife of Peter Cadmus discovered a party of Redcoats approaching the homestead in the western part of the town near what is now Belleville Avenue. Her husband and her brother-in-law were away in the woods at the time and the woman was badly frightened particularly on account of her children. She hid them in a large oven built in the side of the fireplace, admonishing them to keep very quiet. When the Redcoats, led by a refugee, broke in and demanded to know where the men were, Mrs. Cadmus said she did not know. The officer drew his sword and threatened to run her through if she did not tell. Defiantly the woman told him to look for himself, whereupon the angry officer plunged his sword in her side. After a brief search of the house, the party withdrew along the back trails, leaving the woman for dead.

"By that time their presence must have been discovered and the signal gun was fired to call the Second River men to arms. As the Cadmus brothers approached their house they found the woman bleeding heavily and thought that the children had been carried off as hostages. But the children recognized voices and came out of hiding. Mrs. Cadmus eventually recovered."

(2) From ROOTSWEB

"During a scuffle with the British in 1780 Blandina Kipp Cadmus hid her children from the British in a large oven and suffered serious injuries from bayonet wounds from her refusal to tell the British where the local men could be found. Blandina survived her wounds and the children emerged from the oven when Peter Cadmus and his brother heard the disturbance at the house and came running."

Stephen married Phebe Jane Horton [3834] [MRIN: 1292].

The child from this marriage was:

- 2038 M i. William H Kipp [3835].

991. James Kipp [6230] was born on Mar 15, 1788 in near Montreal, QC, was christened on Aug 30, 1789 in Quebec City, QC, died on Jul 2, 1880 in Parkville, Clay Co., MO, USA, aged 92, and was buried in Old Parkville Cem., Parkville, Clay Co., MO, USA.

General Notes: He was one of the pioneers of business in the fur trade with the Indians in the old French territory of Louisiana, which later became the American Far West. He was married several times but we only know of four children. It is highly probable that he had others but this is all that we know about his progeny.

James Kipp VI, eldest son of Samuel Kipp V and Mary Knapp, was born the 15th of March 1788 (1) and was baptized at the Anglican church of the City of Quebec, the 30th of August 1789, by Reverend Philip Toosey.

In the register of baptisms of this church, we can read the following inscription:
"1789 - James son of Samuel and Mary Kipp baptized Aug. 30th."

He left his family very young to be a fur trader in the west and they say that from the year 1808 he was a trapper on the Red River (2) and (3).

His first stay in the west was of short duration because in 1813 he returned to Kingston, in Upper Canada, where his brother Samuel had become a merchant about this time.

The War of 1812 between the United States on one side and England and Canada on the other side must have had certain repercussions on the fur business in the west and it was, without doubt, the cause of the return of James Kipp to his native country.

The 23rd of June 1813, before the Reverend George Okill Stuart, he married, at the Anglican Church of Saint George, in Kingston, Elizabeth Rocheleau, baptized the 17th of January 1794, at the Church of Notre Dame in Montreal, daughter of François Xavier Rocheleau (4) and Marie Louise Miville.

The young married couple arrived in Montreal shortly thereafter and James Kipp became a contract carpenter, joiner and mason. In April 1815, they lived in the Tanneries of Belair (Saint Henry) (5), where James Kipp previously had lived with his mother and his brothers and sisters, but in June 1815 they were residents of the suburb of Saint Laurent (6), where the uncle of James Kipp, Moses Knapp lived.

We know of only two children born in Canada to James Kipp and his wife Elizabeth Rocheleau.

A daughter, Mary, probably the eldest, because she carries the same first name as her grand mother Mary Knapp, appears to have been raised by her uncle and aunt Médard Bruguière and Elizabeth Kipp, in Assomption, where she married Louis Gustave de Lorimier, in 1843.

The other child, a daughter named Louise Charlotte, was born the 10th of August 1815 and was baptized the next day, the 11th of August 1815, at the church Notre Dame in Montreal, and had for a godfather the notary Joseph Désautels, her uncle, husband of Charlotte Kipp, sister of James Kipp. Is it this latter who became Madame Weagent?

The 10th of June 1816 (7), James Kipp still resided in the suburb of Saint Laurent, in Montreal, but by the 17th of March 1817 (8), he had already left the city, having probably proceeded to Kingston, where he is to be found again in February 1818.

The 6th of February 1818, he is listed traveling to Montreal to conclude several matters with compromises (9), and this is the last mention that we can find for him in our neighbourhoods.

James Kipp arrived in Missouri in 1818, after having traveled through in his journey the territory which is today the state of Minnesota. He was engaged immediately after his arrival by the Columbia Fur Company and was sent as clerk to a trading post of this company with the Mandans (10).

Meanwhile, the 3rd of September 1821, we find him at Fort Douglas (today Winnipeg) on the Red River, where he signed a proxy to his mother, Mary Knapp Kipp, to authorize her to come to a compromise in his name, in Montreal, on the subject of Crown lands granted to Samuel Kipp and his children in 1806 in the canton of Eardley, county of Hull, in Lower Canada (11).

In 1822, Kipp is named agent at Fort Clark, the company post in the country of the Mandans in an area which is called the five villages on the Missouri, about 8 miles downstream from the mouth of the Big Knife River at several miles higher than the actual site of the city of Bismarck, state of North Dakota.

James Kipp lived there thirteen years, until 1835, and was the first white to learn and to speak fluently the language of the Mandan red skins. Six feet two inches tall, with blue eyes and brown hair, and straight as an arrow, he had an imposing physique, which commanded the respect of these indigenous people, with whom he became moreover a sincere friend.

He was one of the best agents of the company who charged him with the management of all their fur business with the Mandans.

He also established, during his stay at Fort Clark some new posts for the company, with other tribes of savages on the Missouri, and he constructed a fort at the White Earth River in 1825, and another, Fort Piegan, in the country of the Blackfeet in 1831.

Meanwhile, about 1827, the Columbia Fur Company was absorbed by a rival company, the American Fur Company, and it is in the employ of the latter that James Kipp continued business after this date.

In 1832, George Catlin, American painter and author of works on the customs and costumes of the aborigines of the American West, come to visit Fort Clark and lived with James Kipp, who helped him in his research both scientific and artistic.

Kipp said, in speaking of this visit:

"In the summer of 1832, Mr. George Catlin was a guest in my fort at the Mandan village, observing and learning the customs of the interesting and peculiar people, and painting the portraits of their celebrated men, of which he had many and with great exactness."(12)

Kipp and Catlin maintained, from then on, very amicable relations.

The following year, 1833, another visitor of note passed through Fort Clark. The German Prince, Alexander Philippe Maximilian of Wied-Neuwied, made a stop in the course of a study trip across the American "Far West," and in his narrative of the trip he describes an interview at Fort Clark with several Mandan Chiefs, and he says: " the pipe went round, and the conversation began with the Mandans, by the assistance of Mr. Kipp, clerk of the American Fur Company and the director of the trading post at Fort Clark." (13)

James Kipp left Fort Clark about 1835 and was dispatched to the upper Missouri, among the Black Feet, where he was charged with the construction of Fort McKenzie, which today is in the state of Montana.

Donaldson states that James Kipp abandoned the service of the American Fur Company, about 1834 and operated on his own account on the Missouri. This seems very doubtful because it was this company which charged him, about 1835, with the construction of Fort McKenzie. (14)

It is possible that Kipp had intentions of this kind, because in 1838, he placed his headquarters to the east in the County of Platte, on the Missouri, about ten miles to the north of the actual city of Kansas City.

But in 1843 he is in charge of another of the company's fort, Fort Alexander, on the Yellowstone River, where the naturalist Audubon paid him a visit.

The 22nd of July 1844, he purchased from Hubert Raubeau and his wife Marie Anne the western half of the North West quarter of section 8-51-33, in the Platte County, for the sum of five hundred dollars. The 28th of August 1844, he added to this the South East quarter of section 5-51-33, purchased from Honoré Picotte and his wife Thérèse.

It is from this farm that he organized his expeditions to the upper regions later on and from where he directed, during the good season, business and sales.

In 1845, James Kipp appears to still be in the service of the American Fur Company, because he is in charge of this company's post at Fort Union.

During this period in Canada, James Kipp, sends his news to his relatives, that is to say corresponds with them and on occasion we find records where his name appears. The 23rd of March 1839, he appears before a notary public by the name of P. Walsh at Saint Louis, Missouri and, declaring himself a resident of this city, authorizes his daughter Mary of Assomption to act in his name.

The 15th of July 1843, Mary Kipp of Assomption declares that her father, James Kipp, is of Saint Louis, Missouri. (15) We can understand easily why James Kipp, who traveled the Missouri from one end to the other, that is to say over the length of almost 1,500 miles, and who travelled with the demands of business, would determine his residence, from a legal point of view, at Saint Louis, the centre of business for the fur trade and the site of the business offices of the companies who operated on the Missouri.

After 1844, James Kipp could say he was residing at Barry, a little village in Platte County, near where his farm is situated.

In 1849 the rush towards California in search of gold began and we know that James Kipp was among those who invaded this state in search of a rapid and easy fortune. He does not appear to have been very happy in this adventure and we find him soon returning to the fur trade on the Missouri.

In the summer of 1851 he is in charge of Fort Berthold, again in the country of the Mandans. It is in this place that he received a visit from a young Swiss naturalist painter, Rudolph Friederich Kurz, who he employed as a clerk for around two months.

Kurz left a journal of his adventures with the fur traders and the savages of the west and this narration, including a stay of two months with James Kipp, with whom he lived in close proximity, constitutes an interesting eyewitness of the character of Kipp. (16)

James Kipp was the first man to pilot a steam boat on the Missouri River, around 1840, and he was very familiar with this water course due to having navigated it for many years, for which he was called Captain Kipp.

In June of each year, at the flooding of the waters of the Missouri River, Captain Kipp descended with his boats filled with furs from the upper regions to Saint Louis to sell them. He traveled sometimes with as many as twenty or thirty boats, and even more, each carrying a load of five tons.

The sale was made in the summer and in autumn Kipp returned to his farm at Barry to see to the preparations for the return to the Upper Missouri in the springtime.

It was necessary to procure horses and equipment to transport the merchandise, to the high country from the quays to the Indian villages where the business was done, that is to say the exchange of merchandise imported from Saint Louis for the furs of the savages, and it was necessary to transport the former to the boats, all this transport must necessarily be done on the back of a horse.

Captain Kipp was a well known figure on the Missouri River and made frequent voyages on all his runs. The journal "Liberty Tribune" on the 29th of July 1853, announces the arrival of the captain at Liberty, the place closest to his farm at Barry along the Missouri, and speaks of him in these terms:

Late from the Mountains

"The steamer Robt. Campbell arrived at our wharf last Friday from the Mountains. She has been absent sixty-five days. The Campbell is one of our swiftest boats, and some idea of the vast regions above may be conceived from the time she has been steaming on our might[y] river. She was 150 miles above the mouth of the Yellowstone. She had a fine run. Capt. Kip, a veteran mountain trader, came down on the Campbell and is sojourning a few days with us. His family reside a few miles in the country. From him we learn that the water in the upper river near the mountains has been four feet higher than ever known before, owing to the deep snow in the mountains. He says they have had only light seasonal rain in the spring and scarcely a drop during the month of June. Those of us who have seen the immense volume of water rushing by continually for the last five months have often made the anxious enquiry "Where does all this water come from?" The answer is now given from the masses of snow melting in the gorges of the Rocky Mountains, on the upper sources of the river. Capt. Kip says the upper Indians who always plant their corn in the bottoms have had it all destroyed by the floods. Had not a kind Providence suspended the usual rains all the bottoms below must have been swept. The snow had not all melted in the mountains when he left. He says that the soil in the uplands above the mouth of the Little Missouri is poor, not much fit for cultivation. He says they raise fine potatoes, Indian corn (six weeks variety), peas, beans, oats, wheat, and most garden vegetables in the bottoms. They have no strawberries, blackberries, or raspberries, as yet, but wild turnips, choke cherries, wild onions, and service berries are abundant. They have a wild currant which is a handsome flowering shrub, with large fine fruit. They also have a few wild grapes and some choice wild plumbs lower down. He says there are some considerable bodies of pine in the mountains but owing to falls, rocks, and rapids cannot be gotten out, but lower down there are occasional patches of cedar and pine but no extensive bodies."

"Trade has been good at the Forts although the Indians could not go out much into the mountains after Buffalo. The intense cold and deep snows drove them down from the mountains to the lower bottoms where the Indians usually encamp and the deep snow enabled them to catch them easily. Thus Providence in his great natural operations brought food to the poor Indians in one of the most inclement seasons, when the arm of the mighty hunter could not reach it. He says he was overtaken by snow storms on the 5th and 6th of November last on his way up about 400 miles north of this and traveled most of the balance of the way in deep snow. The severe snow killed some of his horses, and on one occasion in a large prairie he was overtaken by a heavy snow-storm when his compass became injured and would not traverse. The wind swept with violence over the black prairie -- it was dark, he could see but a little distance -- it was impossible to tell what course to steer. Destruction seemed inevitable, when he broke open a trunk and found a small compass a friend had stowed away for him. With this they took their course, and after traveling twenty miles, reached the point of a mountain where there was some brush. The perils of the mountain men would fill volumes with wonderful tales. Capt. Kip says a good outfit was prepared for Governor Stevens and his surveying expedition at Fort Union, mouth of the Yellowstone. He had not arrived when he left. The Capt. thinks way-business on a railroad through that region will never be very heavy."

James Kipp did business on the Missouri until 1865 and then retired to his farm at Barry, in the County of Platte, where he farmed.

An educated man, he had kept a written journal of his experiences during the almost 40 years that he had passed among the savages. He had also accumulated a large quantity of objects and curios from the Indians and had made a sort of museum in his farmhouse at Barry. All of these objects perished, one night in 1870, when his home was destroyed by a fire.

In 1872, the Government of the United States, when considering the purchase of certain paintings and drawings of the naturalist painter George Catlin, for the National Museum in Washington, made enquiries of James Kipp to assure itself of the authenticity of the customs and ceremonies represented by these scenes which for the most part had been completed at the Mandan village where Kipp had charge of the business operations in former years.

James Kipp made a deposition, at Barry, before Dan Carpenter, notary public, also postmaster of this place, in which he certifies the truthfulness, put in doubt by certain persons, of the somewhat barbaric scenes, which made up the subjects of these pieces.

On the subject of this incident, the annual report of the Smithsonian Institute, for the year 1885, reproduces the text of a letter addressed to the president by James Kipp, the 12th of August 1872, which text makes the subject of Appendix XII of the present work.

Although aged 88 years, he went back up the Missouri one more time, in 1876, and visited the Mandan village and Fort Benton, staying in these regions the whole summer and part of the autumn. He was received warmly by the Mandans, who believed him dead for a long time. "The old men and women fell upon my neck, kissed me and wept," he reported, and they gave him numerous gifts.

He returned to Barry the same autumn and lived there until his death.

He was a lover of fine horses and went riding on horseback constantly. A contemporary reports that six weeks before his death, at the age of 92 years, he was still riding in this fashion as alert as a young man.

James Kipp died the 2nd of July 1880, at the home of a friend. A.C. Woods, at Barry, and was buried in the old cemetery of Parkville, County of Platte, in the State of Missouri.

By will, dated the 18th of May 1868, with a codicil of the 6th of September 1877, he left his property, in equal parts to his son Joseph Kipp of Fort Benton, Montana, his daughter, Margaret Weagent, of Montreal, and Julia Kipp, daughter of his son Samuel deceased.

James Kipp was considered by the American historians as a pioneer of the west and the William Andrews Clark Memorial Library of the University of California, at Los Angeles, preserves a stock of documents and pieces relating to him. This fonds is available to researchers.

A journalist and historian of Kanasa City, Missouri, Clyde H. Porter, did a lot of research on James Kipp and much of the information contained in this study is due to his gracious amiability.

Kipp's memory is commemorated in the west in two places. On geographic maps one finds, in Montana, the name of Kipp given to a post office in the area where formerly was erected Fort Kipp and in Alberta, not far from Lethbridge, there is also a post office of the name of Kipp, the latter on the whole commemorating his son Joseph.

The newspaper "Kansas City Daily Times" published the following eulogy of James Kipp in its issue of Thursday 15 July 1880:

The First River Captain

Death of Capt. James Kip, of Platte County, an old time river captain who was commander of the first steamboat that plied the Missouri. A long and eventful life but rest at last. Reminiscences of his river life.

It's almost if not quite half a century since the first steam-boat worked its laborious way through the murkey waters of the Missouri north of Kansas City. The name of the steamer is forgotten, but the man who commanded it has just passed away in the person of Capt. James Kip, of Platte County, who for many years has resided near the old town of Barry, formerly an important town on the old military road between Omaha and Liberty.

At the time that steamer passed north all this country was a complete wilderness. In fact from an old map dated 1840 it is shown the entire Platte Purchase, then just laid off and opened for settlement, was at that date almost devoid of settlement and population. From Liberty Landing there was nothing on the River until the present city of Parkville was reached, where was located Park's Store and just north of it Winston's Store. Next, opposite Fort Leavenworth, was the Kickapoo Indian Reservation, then came Weston and Latan. St. Joe was known as Roubideaux's Store, and north of that to Omaha there was not a settlement, and that was but forty years ago. Kansas City, Leavenworth, Atchison, and St. Joseph, now with a combined population of not less than a hundred and fifty thousand souls, then had no mark or habitation on the earth's surface, and it was just prior to the date of this map that Captain Kip made his first trip up the river, and he lived to see all the wonderous changes wrought by man and time.

For the next eight or ten years he followed steam-boating but when the gold rush swept over the country, he became a full fledged "forty-niner" and went with the army of gold hunters to the "fields." He was not one of the successful ones, although his life at the time was full of adventures. He returned after a few years to his old stamping grounds on the Platte Purchase from which he made frequent excursions to the far north often commanding fleets of what were in those days known as "mountain boats," that is flat boats loaded with furs and spoils of the far north, the fruits of barter with the Indians for glass beads, fire-water, and trinkets. It was from one of these trips that he brought home with him a half-breed wife, by whom he raised a large family now among the best families of Platte County. During all those years his life was full of wild adventure and hair-breadth escapes. Many attempts had been made to interview him in relation to those but without avail. His invariable reply was, "I will leave the documents so they can be used when I am gone," and it is believed that during the last years of his life he prepared a full history of his adventures.

In regard to his early life, birth and parentage, he was equally uncommunicative but his parents are believed to have been descendants of the early Dutch settlers along the Hudson, who, afterwards, migrated into Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Kentucky, and an ancestry renowned for its restless spirit, and which can trace direct lineage to the royal house of Hanover.

Up to the last weeks of his life Capt. Kip was a very active man, and an excellent rider. But a short time since he broke a colt that none dared to mount and rode it many miles reducing it to complete subjection. He was apparently strong and vigorous almost to the last week of his death, which occurred about ten days ago. His funeral was very quiet, his remains being deposited in the little graveyard a mile north of Parkville.

There is one error in it: Kipp could not have interacted with William Laidlaw on the Red River in 1808, for Laidlaw was only 8 years old at the time, having been born in 1800.

James married Indian wife [13985] [MRIN: 4812], daughter of Mandek-Suck-Choppenih (Medicine Bird) [13986], circa 1822.

Children from this marriage were:

2039 M i. Samuel Kipp [6309] was born in 1832 and died before 1868.

2040 F ii. Daughter Kipp [13987] was born on Mar 24, 1834.

James next married Elizabeth Rocheleau [6238] [MRIN: 2117], daughter of Francois Xavier Rocheleau [7796] and Marie Louise Miville [7797], on Jun 23, 1813 in Kingston, ON, Can. Elizabeth was born in Jan 1794 in Montreal, QC, was christened on Jan 17, 1794 in Montreal, QC, and died on Oct 15, 1818 in Kingston, Upper Canada, aged 24.

Children from this marriage were:

2041 F i. Mary Ann Kipp [6303] was born in L'Assomption, QC, Can, died on Aug 29, 1865 in St. Hyacinthe, QC, Can, and was buried on Sep 1, 1865 in Montreal, QC, Can.

2042 F ii. Louise Charlotte Kipp [6304] was born on Aug 10, 1815 in Montreal, QC, Can and was christened on Aug 11, 1815 in Montreal, QC, Can.

2043 F iii. Margaret Kipp [8334].

James next married Mary Bloodgood [8333] [MRIN: 2883], daughter of Lucretia Bloodgood [9819], on Feb 2, 1839 in Platte Co., MO, USA. Mary was born in 1814 in New York, USA, died before 1870 in Parkville, Clay Co., MO, USA, and was buried in Old Parkville Cem., Parkville, Clay Co., MO, USA.

James next married Earth Woman, Sak'wi-ah-ki [6305] [MRIN: 2144], daughter of Four Bears Chief of the Mandans [7105] and See Yee Och See [7106], Perhaps 1847. Earth was born in 1818, died on Dec 14, 1910 in Browning, MT, USA, aged 92, and was buried in Old Browning Cem., Browning, MT, USA.

The child from this marriage was:

2044 M i. Joseph Kipp [6308] was born on Nov 29, 1849 in Fort Union, Upper Missouri, USA, died on Dec 10, 1913 in Browning, MT, USA, aged 64, and was buried in Old Browning Cem., Browning, MT, USA.

992. Samuel Kipp [6231] was born in 1790 in QC, Can, died on Nov 20, 1830 in Montreal, QC, Can, aged 40, and was buried in Bytown, Upper Canada.

General Notes: Samuel Kipp was probably born in Quebec about 1790, because he was older than Elizabeth, born in 1791. Samuel VI was 21 years old in 1814.

Like his brother and his sisters, he left the paternal home very young and in 1814 was a merchant at Kingston, in Upper Canada, where his brother James was settled down and had found a wife in 1813.

During the War of 1812-1815, Kingston became a military base for the Provincial Marines serving in the defense of the great lakes and the commercial development of this city which afterwards attracted the Kipp brothers to this place.

It is at Montreal, however, that Samuel Kipp went to find his wife. The 20th November 1814, before Thomas Barron, notary of Montreal, he signed a marriage contract with Marie Anne Gaudry, born the 6 September 1795, at Montreal, and baptized the next day, at the church of Notre Dame, daughter of Louis Amable Gaudry and Marie Anne Houé dit (nicknamed) Jolicoeur.

The marriage took place the next day, 21st November, at the church of Notre Dame, in Montreal.

Their first six children were baptized at the church of Notre Dame in Montreal and in several of the baptisms the parents were said to be from Kingston. However, by the 1825 census, the family was living in the suburb of St. Laurent, in Montreal.

Towards the end of this period, the government undertook the construction of the Rideau Canal and Samuel Kipp moved his enterprise to the new center of commerce, which was developing at the head of the canal, at Bytown.

He was one of the fourteen citizens of Bytown who were chosen, by the unanimous vote of the people present, the 7th September 1828, to form a committee charged with the construction of a Catholic church in this town. He was also instructed, along with a Mr. Joyce, to collect subscriptions, in the lower town, of Rideau Street to the Canal.(1).

The 6th October 1828, Mr. Kipp and Mr. Saint-Louis were instructed to look after the construction of a quicklime kiln to serve in the construction of the church(2).

Samuel Kipp died prematurely at Montreal the 20th November 1830, according to a notice of his death appearing in the newspaper "La Minerve" of Montreal about this date. The notice said that Mr. Kipp was a merchant at Bytown but there was no mention of the place of interment.

It is also noted that Samuel Kipp took a lease from Colonel By on lots 1 and 2 St. Patrick Street (South Side) Ottawa May 1, 1829.

It is probable that he was interred at Bytown, where his family lived afterwards. A large part of the register for the year 1830 is missing from the archives of the parish of Notre Dame of Bytown, today The Basilica of Ottawa, so one is unable to affirm where his remains rest.

General Notes: Charlotte Kipp VI, last child of Samuel Kipp V and Mary Knapp, was born the 6th July 1796 according to the record of baptism, the 30th August 1796, in the Anglican church Christ Church, in Montreal. She received the first name of Charlotte in honour of Charlotte Hughes who was her godmother.

The 17th June 1813, before master Thomas Barron, Montreal notary, she signed a marriage contract with Joseph Désautels, himself a notary, born the 26th November 1788 and baptized the same day, in Notre Dame, Montreal, son of François Désautels and Charlotte Thessier.

Of Charlotte Kipp's family, the following parents assisted in the signature of the contract: Moses Knapp, her grandfather, Elizabeth Hatfield, her grandmother, Moses Knapp, her uncle, and Oliver Smith, another uncle, and Elizabeth Smith, her aunt. On the part of Joseph Désautels we find his brother Theodore, and a sister-in-law Joseph Roy.

The marriage took place three days later, Saturday, 20th June 1813, in the Scottish Presbyterian church on Saint Gabriel Street, in Montreal, before the Reverend J. Somerville, pastor of this church.

Mrs. Désautels lived to the advanced age of 93 years. She converted to Catholicism and died in Joliette, at the residence of Louis Antoine Derome, opposite the church, the 25th July 1889, and was buried the 27 of the same month in the local cemetery of this place as attested by the following record in register of the parish of St. Charles Borromeo.

"The twenty-seven July one thousand one hundred and eighty nine, the undersigned priests buried, in the parish cemetery, the body of Charlotte Kipp wife of the late Joseph Désautels, in his life notary of this parish deceased the twenty fifth presently aged 93 years. Present were Amédée Derome, Louis Antoine Adolphe Magnan, Berthélémi Vézina, Urgel Dorval, Charles Leprohon and several others who sigend with us. Reading done.

Maria married William Lott [885] [MRIN: 278], son of Abraham Lott [10690], on Jan 23, 1814 in Fonda, NY, USA.
William died in 1819.

Children from this marriage were:

2132 M i. John Lott [892].

2133 M ii. Henry Lott [893] was born on Sep 7, 1815 in New York, USA and died on Sep 4, 1901 in Ohio, USA, aged 85.

Maria next married Jamieson [894] [MRIN: 279].

1174. John Livingston Kip [879] was born on Oct 16, 1792 in New York, NY, was christened on Nov 30, 1792 in New York, NY, and died on Mar 16, 1860 in Hannibal, Oswego Co., NY, USA, aged 67.

General Notes: John Livingston was probably named after the noted Dutch minister of New York City of that name. When a young man he lived near Johnstown, N.Y. Here he met Joseph Miller and his daughter Mary. When the Erie Canal was building he assisted Mr. Miller in constructing sections of the canal. He was elected Assemblyman from Wayne Co. in 1826. He was a founder of the Methodist Church in Hannibal, N.Y.

Northern Christian Advocate, Wednesday, May 9, 1860

John L. Kipp died in Hannibal, Oswego County, New York, March 16th, 1860, aged 67 years.

Brother Kipp was a leader in Israel--one of the pillars in the Methodist Episcopal Church. For twenty-one years in succession he held the office of Recording Steward, and his records are the history of Granby and Hannibal Circuits for the last twenty years. He was theologically experimentally and practically Methodistic. No more faithful or fast friend had the Church and the ministry in all times than J. L. Kipp. To her he gave much time, counsel and material aid.

"To her his cares and toils were given,
Till toils and cares did end."

When or where was there a camp-meeting, a quarterly meeting or a special gathering of any kind, within the bounds of the old Granby or Hannibal Circuits, in whose councils, and among whose laborers, was not this ever vigilant servant of the Church found? When exhortation or entreaty, administered in prose, failed to arouse to diligence and duty, poetry, as it flowed from the lips of our departed brother, moved all hearts. His name and virtues are embalmed in the hearts of the good, and his record is on high. For nearly one year and a half he had been deprived of the public means of grace by loss of health; but his long illness was borne with Christian resignation, and he came to his end ripe for the heavenly garner; and as he moved out into the swellings of Jordan, he waved his hand as the last token of triumph through the blood of the Lamb.

He was ordained Aug. 8, 1830 at the Reformed Dutch Church of Bloomingdale. After a successful congregation at the Mission of the Collegiate Church on the outskirts of the City, he accepted a call to the old historic Dutch Church in Fishkill, NY in August 1836. A ministry of 35 years followed. In 1850 he was in the Town of Fishkill, Dutchess County, with assets of $7,000. In 1854 he visited Europe. In 1857 he was president of General Synod at Utica, and also received his D.D. from Columbia College. In 1860 he was elected trustee of Rutgers College. In the 1870's he resigned at Fishkill and accepted the pastorate of united Churches of Richmond and Huguenot, Staten Island and was appointed chaplain of Seaman's Retreat. In 1881 he resigned at Staten Island to officiate as chaplain of the city institutions at Ward's Island and Randall's Island. The closing work of his life was as chaplain of the United States Marines hospital on Staten Island in 1883. He was a language scholar, being well versed in Latin, Greek, and Hebrew. He delighted in antiquarian research.

In the War of 1812, John served as a private in the 1st Regiment Artillery (Stitcher's), New York Volunteers. John was a mason in Ward 9 of New York City. He was living there with his son Hartson and daughter Matilda in 1850, but then his name appears in the city directory only a couple more years, the last being 1852. It's likely that he died about that time.

The following was hand copied from the Daily Picayune (New Orleans Newspaper) dated Oct. 4, 1864 - page 2, col. 5). (notes provided by his great-great granddaughter).

"Monday Oct. 3, 1864 - William Ledyard Kip, of Kips Bay, N.Y., aged 54 (slightly illegible)... and for the past 28 years resided of this city. The friends and acquaintances of the family are respectfully invited to attend his funeral, which will take place this evening at 4 o'clock from his late residence, No.4 Independence Street, between Love and Craps"

My great grandmother Mary Lucretia Barnett was the daughter of Anna Maria Kip who was the daughter of William Ledyard Kip. William Ledyard Kip was the eldest son of Elbert Kip of Manhattan. Elbert's second son, Samuel E Kip, came to New Orleans in about 1828. Various references show him founding a Volunteer Fire Department, Columbia 5, in 1834. In 1836, Samuel wed Eveline Edmondson Reed (of Kentucky) in New York. William Ledyard joined his brother in New Orleans in 1836. References show the founding of omnibus services in 1838 with proprietors "Kip and Reed", one on the first in the US. Census of 1850 shows Samuel Kip as a Ship Chandler. There are fewer references to William Ledyard Kip. Mary Lucretia Barnett was still in touch with the Kip family as a young woman. Her mother died in 1888. Was hoping a Kip family tree might have some details.

William married Lucretia Ann Roberts [4236] [MRIN: 1434] on Dec 16, 1851.

General Notes: The death of THOMAS KIP was announced under the regular head. He died Monday morning at the residence of his brother, MR. HENRY KIP, No. 640 Main Street. He was stricken down with paralysis on the 20th inst., and though unable to articulate, his mind was clear to the last moment. The deceased was born in Whitesboro, Oneida County, May 20, 1807, and was therefore over 74 years of age. His parents moved to Buffalo in 1819, since which time he had resided here; not continuously, however, for he spent considerable time in New York. MR. KIP was one of the earliest subscribers to the Young Mens' Association and always took a deep interest in its welfare. He was a gentleman of a retired disposition, engaged in mercantile pursuits, and never held any public positions except that of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, in the early days of its organization. The deceased was a man of integrity, kindly disposition and strong feelings, and will be favorably remembered by our oldest citizens. He left two brothers, three sisters, and two children. The funeral was to take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon, REV. DR. INGERSOLL and REV. VAN BOKKELEN officiating, and the remains will be interred at Forest Lawn. General Notes: Quaker. Recorded in the Creek meeting records after 1807. A member of the "Spartan Rangers" in the rebellion of 1837, he was jailed in London for his part in the Rebellion. Sentences to be banished from the Province. Caleb Kipp, yeoman, Dec. 1, 1837, pet. under 1 Vict. c. 10, banished from the Province for life.

He left Canada with his wife and family in a covered wagon. He travelled to Detroit, went across Michigan and into Illinois where he settled near the Fox River in the town of Elgin (then called Clinton), Kane County. He became a respectable citizen and sent three sons off to fight for the Union Army in the Civil War. He kept in touch with his Sparta relatives.

A PIONEER GONE

Caleb Kipp died at 6 o'clock last evening of enlargement of the liver. He had been sick for several months and death was expected. He was born in New York state and came to Illinois many years ago, engaging in farming. West of Elgin, a few miles, "Kipp's corners" will bear his name perhaps for generations. He acquired considerable property

2033. Peter Howard Brady [5900] was born on Jan 3, 1821 in New York, USA and died on Oct 10, 1866 in Whitewater, Walworth Co., WI, USA, aged 45.

General Notes: As a man he moved to Illinois, and was employed as merchant's clerk in Auroua till 1841, when he moved to Whitewater, Wisconsin and engaged as clerk in the general store of P. Beck, continuing under the firm of Peck & Keep, till 1848, when he was admitted as a member of the firm. When the firm was dissolved in 1851 he entered into partnership with Jacob Dtarin and D S Cook in the same line. In 1857, he sold his interest to his partners and bought into the Whitewater Foundry, with Allen & Powers. He sold his interest here and removed to Plano, Illinois in 1865 to invest in his brother Jesse's fruit farm but his health started failing and he returned to Whitewater, Walworth Co., Illinois, where he died.

General Notes: Mary Ann Kipp, daughter of James Kipp VI and of his first wife Elizabeth Rocheleau was probably born at Assomption, in Lower Canada, and appears to have been raised in this location by her uncle and her aunt, Médard Bruguière and Elizabeth Kipp, after her parents left Canada for the West.

The 3rd October 1843, at Assomption, she married Louis Gustave de Lorimier, clerk of the Circuit court of Assomption.

Mary Ann Kipp de Lorimier died at St. Hyacinthe the 29th August 1865. Her funeral service took place at St. Hyacinthe the 1st of September 1865 and the body was placed aboard the train to Montreal and was buried the same day in the cemetery of Côte de Neiges at Montreal. The record of her burial said that shewas aged 47 years.

We do not know of any children of his first marriage to Mary Ann Kipp.

2044. Joseph Kipp [6308] was born on Nov 29, 1849 in Fort Union, Upper Missouri, USA, died on Dec 10, 1913 in Browning, MT, USA, aged 64, and was buried in Old Browning Cem., Browning, MT, USA.

General Notes: Native name: Raven Quiver. Sometimes called Kipah. Joseph Kipp VII, son of James Kipp VI and of his "savage" wife Earth Woman, was born at Fort Union, a post of the American Fur Company, in the upper Missouri, today in the State of Montana.

He was a fur trader, like his father, and was a well know figure in the American west. A biography of him, written by Martha Edgerton Plassmann, was published, with a portrait, in the newspaper "The Froid Tribune," of Great Falls, Montana, on September 12th 1924.

He received his public school education near Choteau, Montana. He later attended St. Ignatius Mission School for one year. He then attended a boarding school at St. Joseph, MO, concluding with thorough courses at the Bryant & Stratton's Commercial College, Peoria, ILL., and at a commercial college at Chicago. In 1866, he went to Fort Benton, Montana, and for two years was a clerk at Carroll & Steele's Indian trading post, and the next season he was thus engaged in the Northwest Territory. In 1870, he returned to Fort Benton and for a while was connected in business on a percentage basis with I.G. Baker & Co. In 1881 he located on the Blackfoot reservation, at Blackfoot on the Great Northern Railway, Teton County. Here he had 1,000 acres of land, completely fenced and otherwise improved and engaged in stockraising. He was influential in Democratic circles. By his marriage, solemnized on May 14, 1898, he had three children.

General Notes: He was baptized at the church of Notre Dame, in Montreal.

Like his uncle, James Kipp, and his cousin, Théophile Bruguière, he opted for a life of adventure in the American west and was in the employ of the American Fur Company.

In 1842, he was a clerk at Fort McKenzie, on the Upper Missouri, under the orders of Chardon, whereas in 1847 Larpenteur(6) recorded that Joseph Désautels was in charge of Fort Clark when he made a visit to this post.

He married a young lady of the Gareau family. We do not know the names of the parents of this young lady but in the accounts of this voyage to the fur country one sees often the name of Pierre Gareau, interpreter, in the employ of the company.(7).

Joseph Désautels died the 15th November 1850, at Fort Pierre (today the city of Pierre, State of South Dakota). The journal "Les Mélanges Religieux" of Montreal, announced his decease the 8th July 1851, in these terms:

"At Fort Pierre on the Upper Missouri. Mr. Jos. Desautels, at the age of 33 years. This man died the 15th November last, after his return to Montreal, where he came last summer to see his family, after an absence of fifteen years. Mr. Jos. Ripp (James Kipp), his uncle, who accompanied him and M. A. Picott, advantageously known, who received him at his fort, lavished him with all possible care but in vain. He was the guardian of Fort Clark on the Missouri, one of the wilderness posts of the American Fur Company, and one of the best hunters of the wild buffalo. The Rev. Père De Smet, missionary, speaks positively of Mr. Désautels, in the account of his trips(8) among the savage tribes of the rocky mountains."

General Notes: Married at the Brick Street Church, Beekman Street, NYC, by Rev. George Potts.

He was a first in the dry goods business with a Mr. Wilcox, but about 1840 went into brokerage business with Winslow and Perkins. He held an interest in the firm from 1849 to late 1851. He left the firm taking a substantial sum with him and was presented with a silver service. In 1850 Perkins had retired and a Mr. Lanier came in. In 1851, Winslow took in his two brothers on a basis that was unsatisfactory to Mr. Kip and he retired.

He then joined the New York Stock Exchange as a member in 1851, when a seat cost only $300.00. He continued in business alone until 1860 or 61. Then he joined forces with Anthony W. Morse as partner, the firm being A.W. Morse & Co.; but remained only about two or three years, when he retired. Morse was a big operator. He lived at 357 West 23rd St., NY.

In 1863 he bought a home in Peekskill, NY

County & Family Histories, PA: 1740-1900

George W. Kipp, one of the leading lumbermen of Jefferson County; a resident of Cortez; well worthy of prominent mention in the pages of this work. Born in Pike County, Pennsylvania on March 28, 1847 Mr. Kipp is a son of John and Hannah Correll Kipp, natives. John of Philadelphia, and Hannah of Sterling, Wayne County, Pennsylvania. They were married at Sterling then shortly thereafter moved to Pike County where they passed the rest of their days, the father dying in October 1892 at the age of seventy-five years, the mother in June 1889, aged sixty-nine. They are laid to rest in Kipp Town Cemetery in Pike County. They were members of the Methodist Church, and Mr. Kipp, in his political predilections, was a Democrat. He carried on farming and lumbering, also operated a sawmill in connection with the lumber business.

Isaac Kipp, great-grandfather of subject, a farmer by occupation, also died in Pike Co.

George W. Kipp, whose name opens this sketch, was reared on his father's farm, receiving his education in the public schools of his native township. He remained on the farm until he was 21 years of age. He then for six years was engaged in the lumber business in Luzerne County; thence, at the end of that time, removing to Wayne County, where for three years he conducted a grist mill and general merchandise store. From there he went to Bradford County, the lumber industry occupying his attention five years; thence to Sullivan County where he engaged in the lumber business, his residence being part of the time in Monroe, Bradford Co., and part of the time in Luzerne Co. In April 1894, Mr. Kipp removed from Kingston to his present hometown of Cortez, Jefferson Co., in which year he built the mill here. Some idea of the magnitude of his business may be gained from the fact that he handles about 15 million feet of lumber per annum, and sometimes ships one and a half million feet in a month. He is also at this time extensively engaged in lumbering in other localities. He owns one-half of the stock in, and is president of, the Towanda Water Works, the company being composed of George W. Kipp of Cortez and E. F. Kizer of Towanda, PA. The timber for the lumber manufactured at the mill here is taken from 6,200 acres of woodland in McCalmont and Oliver townships, Jefferson Co. The Home Lumber Co., in which our subject is active, is composed of D. H. Clark; E. F. Kizer; and George W. Kipp.

On July 15, 1872 in Wayne County, our subject was married to Miss Adelaide M. Kizer of Lackawanna County, Pennsylvania. Born there she is the daughter of Jacob Kizer, a farmer and lumberman of Lackawanna Co.; and two children have blessed this union: Margaret, and Beatrice, both at home. The family is identified with the Methodist Episcopal church; while in standing Mr. Kipp is a thirty-second-degree Free Mason. He has always been loyally interested in the progress of our community wherein he has made his home, and as a staunch Democrat has taken an active interest in politics, although his influence has been used for his friends rather than for himself. He has served a three-year term as a commissioner of Wayne Co.

George married Martha Adalaide Kizer [8030] [MRIN: 2777], daughter of Jacob Kizer [14361], on Jul 15, 1872 in Wayne Co., PA, USA. Martha was born on Apr 3, 1849 in Pennsylvania, USA and died on Oct 19, 1910, aged 61.

HENRY DELMATER DENISON

Physician and business man, was born at Pompey, Onondaga Co., NY, March 20, 1822, and was a son of Dr. Denison, a prominent physician of that place. He attended the public schools, spent two years at the Medical College at Castleton, VT, and was subsequently graduated from Columbia College. Upon completing his studies he returned to Pompey and commenced the practice of medicine with his father. He did not find the profession congenial, however, and after two years he abandoned it. In 1850 he removed to Syracuse, where he became a contractor. His first contract was taken in partnership with his father-in-law, Anson Sutherland, but later Joseph Scoville and Thomas Gale were admitted to the firm, the latter remaining until his death. Upon the retirement of Mr. Scoville, J. J. Belden was made a partner, the firm name being Denison & Belden. This partnership lasted until the death of Dr. Denison. This firm was largely engaged in railroad construction work and also did a large amount of work on the Erie canal. Much of the most important public work of that period in Central New York was done by this firm. On October 1, 1845, Dr. Denison married Miss Melissa Marie Sutherland. Dr. Denison died at his home in Syracuse on December 20, 1882.

General Notes: In his book, "The History of the Wanzer Family in America" published 1920, William David Wanzer (from the New England branch of the family) notes on Page 114

"Abraham Wanser was living in 1907 in Flatlands, LI and is an old man. His father's name was also Abraham Wanser. The former married Rebecca Raynor. One brother, Oakley, was boss mason at the Croton Water works. He had an uncle named William Wanser. The younger Abraham had thirteen children; two of are now living: Albert and Wilbur at Flatlands, LI."

Based on the names of his children, Albert and Wilbur, who I have identified from other sources, this younger Abraham is my Third Great Grandfather. I base the information on his father and mother upon WD Wanzer's comments. My Abraham died in Flatlands in 1908, and I have identified 10 of the 13 children William David Wanzer mentions on page 114 in "the History".

The name Abraham goes back in the Wanshaer family to Jan Jansen's eldest son, born in New Amsterdam in 1649. WD Wanzer's History follows the descendents of two of his nine sons; his 5th son Anthony, and his 9th son, Jan. We know from WD Wanzer's book that Anthony moved to Flatlands and Flatbush from Manhattan. One of his sons, Abraham moved from Long Island to CTecticut in 1735 and founded the New England branch of the family. A quick review doesn't show any of these Wanshaers moving back to Long Island. Anthony's other son, Jan, is not traced in WD Wanzer's book. The children of Jan Jansen's 9th son Jan are only traced through one son, Abraham, and his one son Thomas, who lead the clan out of Long Island and into upstate NY, DE, and the Midwest. So, we have a gap between the Wanshaers of New Amsterdam and the Wansers (Abraham) of present day Brooklyn that lead to our family. In the 1790 census, the first census held by the new United States, there are no Wansers in Kings Co., but there are nine Wansor Families still living on Long Island (7 in Oyster Bay and 2 in North Hempstead). Almost all of these have the familiar Wanser first names, Abraham, Benjamin, Jacob, Joseph, etc, that are identified in our Wanser Family line, so we could come from any of them. The bottom line is that William David Wanzer does list Great Grandfather Abraham in his book, so the assumption is he did that for a reason - that we are a branch of the New Amsterdam Wanshaers. But, there is no clear direct lineage in his book as to how our Abraham, born in the early 1800s is related to Jan Jansen Wanshaer, founder of the clan.
